Dear Lee: —

It's the loveliest spring day here today and about five of us are out on the back porch in shorts writing letters. I guess you are pretty well settled in your new home now and beginning to work. It was so nice to be home together for a few days but the next time I will see what I can do ahead of time to see about the "date" situation. I had a lonely ride back on the train and it rained all the way. I was really glad to see dear old Williamsport again and all the girls.

We had try-outs for the play we are giving in May last Monday. I got a small part in it and I think it will be fun to work on it. It's a three-act murder and called "Nice Girls" only I'm the tenth.

We had our monthly tests this week and some of them were really doozies! On Thursday I had three and that was the worst day I've spent in a long time. On Friday it began to be nice here and the week-end has just turned out to be wonderful!

When I got back I found a letter from Allen writing for me. He's still in Italy and seeing action all ^{the} time. He said to wish you luck and etc!

See, whatever happened to you after you left me at the station? Mother wrote and said that you came home and were sick all over the place. She said she thought it was the accident but that I probably knew more about it! What accident did you ever get into and why involve me? Please explain because may involvement is killing me.

I've heard from Fred three times since he's left but he was still on his way. In the letter I got today he said they were definitely going to Santa Ana; so if you ever get up that way, I wish you would look him up and say "hello."

We're all going to go for a walk now, so this is going to be short. Let me hear as soon as you get settled and tell me all the news. Bye now!

All my love -
Shirley

P.S. Did mother tell you about Roland being home? It's to bad you couldn't see him!
You better not lose that new pen the Sanders' gave you or you'll really get it!
They are certainly nice people, aren't they?

Love -
Shirley
