I dipt into the future as far as human eye can see, Saw the vision of the world and all the wonders that would be: . . .

The war drum throbbed no longer, and the battle flags were furled In the Parliament of Man, the Federation of the World. There the common sense of most shall hold a fretful realm in awe, And the kindly earth shall slumber, kept in universal law.

Alfred Lord Tennyson [Locksley Hall]

All the past we leave behind us; We debouch upon a newer, mightier world, varied world; Fresh and strong the world we seize, world of labor and the march, Pioneers! O Pioneers!

Walt Whitman [Pioneer! O Pioneers!]

We shalt love the Lord our God with all our heart, and with all our soul, and with all our mind. And we shalt love our neighbors as ourselves. For on these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.
