

1

May 10, 1943

Dear Lee:-

This is my birthday and I guess I can celebrate it in no better way than writing you. We had a very pleasant and busy day yesterday. Before breakfast I was presented with your gift, which of course started the day off right. The sherbet glasses are lovely and I do appreciate more than I can tell you your thinking of me. I hope you will be home sometime soon to use them. Shirley and Bernice each gave me a plate to go with the sherbets.

Miss Wehrle arrived early Saturday evening. She spoke at Grace Church School yesterday, had dinner here with us and stayed until time for the evening service at Richardson Park. After that we all went over to the Miller's and stayed until her train time. She took the 1 a.m. to Washington where she had a few hours' wait over before taking a train direct to Knoxville this morning.

The weekend was very warm but today it is much cooler and feels like rain. I am trying to get Shirley's dress for the junior prom finished. Grandmother Minker is coming out this afternoon for dinner. Uncle Marion and the family came up yesterday but we did not get to see them. He had been up to York, Pa. last week. Grandmother says he still continues to get fatter every day.

Are the clippings which I have been sending you concerning baseball what you want? Daddy is looking forward to this coming Friday night when the Blue Rocks play their first home game in the regular series.

As I want this to go in on the 1 o'clock trip I do not have time to type off copies of that letter which you wanted, but I'll do it sometime this week and send it along later.

Love from everybody.

Mother