OFFICERS' CLUB Roswell Army Air Field Roswell, New Mexico Monday evening April 17, 1944 Dear Had, Tonight the world seems unreal to me for A am tired and lonely. Last week section V, of which of am a member, was selected for accellerated B-17 transition training, flying and ground school every day so that it will finish training by May sixth. Since then a third of the group have been eliminated for flying deficiency. The constant pressure, the lack of sleep and the always blowing dust is all that is felt except for the blazing latted of the damn truck we fly. But & do hope & can make the grade. Sam Watkins is in the other accellerated section by the Domust get some sleep as Domust fly at 4:30 tomorrow morning but first D will write down a few thoughts.

ordering the News fournal for me It will be just in time for following the baseball season. Dwish P wish P wild have heard Dr. Judd. He must be a truly great man. Frace must have quite a mens group judging from the clipping account. The general opinion among my collegues is that Wilkie will not be missed. Koosevelt should be president again unless something breaks this summer; then Dewey should represent the people. Just what summer clothing is being shipped from Wilmington. Dhave filed my first income tax return and sent in my first quarterly payment of #14.05. Hal Sites, Pecos groom, is a basic instructor at Merced, Talifornia. Mike Lographone writes that he is taking air force technical training at Seymour Johnson Field, North Tarolina. Grandmother Minder wrote. Dwill never get my correspondence up to date again. But don't worry about me, Del make out alright. Lee
