Dear Lee:-

Mother is reading. So is Grandmother Jones. Walter and Bernice are making fudge and drinking "Cokes". It's a quiet and beautiful evening here. Here's hoping it isn't too ugly a one where you are.

How about broadcasts. I wonder if you'll hear the Navy-Notre Dame one tomorrow. It ought to be the game of the year. Navy has plenty of power. You knew, I suppose, that Miller is coaching at Notre Dame.

Political feeling runs high just now. Father Tucker made a public appeal for Dewey to-day. It looks tough for us, though. Delaware looks safe -- and maybe the country. You'll know before this reaches you.

Ben Johns registered Wed. He, Mr. Montgomery, Dr. Johns and I celebrated with a round of golf Monday. Ben and I beat the two "old fellows."

Everybody asks for you -- and wants to be remembered -- Mrs. Buskins, Mr. Wetstein, the Hannings, etc.

The best always -- Dad
